ALMA MATER

Oh, Highland High School now to thee, We sing our song of loyalty! We sing thy glory and thy fame, And praises to thy honored name. Come and join us while we sing, We'll make the nearby hillsides ring. Our faith in thee will never die, We'll always love thee, Highland High.

A school, like an art gallery, expresses many facets of life. The HIGHLANDER shows how a student's character develops throughout the year from a rough sketch to a finished portrait, just as the strokes of the master develop the tone and color necessary to create the finished masterpiece.

Each room of the gallery contains a different type of art: portraits, landscapes, still life, sketches, op art, pottery, and sculptures. The school's gallery contains art of a different nature: sports, music, academic subjects, clubs, and most important of all — the students.

Now let us explore the contents of Highland's 1970 portfolio. . . .

Now in his 21st year at Highland, Mr. Lewin O. Vermillion is the superintendent of the Highland School District. During his tenure at Highland, Mr. Vermillion has seen a 55 per cent increase in student enrollment (since 1960) and a major addition of classrooms to the high school. His primary role as executive officer of the School Board is to carry out the Board's policies and recommendations, as well as suggesting new ideas of his own.

It has been through his efforts that a guidance department, library, and graphic arts program have been established.

When asked his opinion about high school students, he expressed faith in the student's behavior and knowledge, and noted the fact that today's teens can "think for themselves."

Members of the SCHOOL BOARD are as follows: Seated, Mrs. Evelyn Brunskill, Clerk; Mr. Lewin O. Vermillion, Superintendent; and Mrs. Elsie Hummel.

Standing, Mr. William Kelly, Mr. Robert Schmelzer, President; Mrs. Josephine Becks, Vice-President; and Mr. John Wiszt.

The guidance department is essential in helping undecided students plan their futures. They also administer scholastic tests and record the results.

Mrs. Myers, in addition to working as head counselor, works with the student council and guides the interclub council in their work. Mr. Burch, our assistant guidance counselor, also teaches driver's education.

As principal of Highland High School, Mr. Richard W. Chaffee is always on the move. His energetic enthusiasm and vitality are felt by both students and faculty alike. He is always willing to devote a portion of his busy day to the students and to help them learn to become responsible citizens. Mr. Chaffee's main job is to see that everything functions smoothly and properly throughout the high school.

School employees perform the valuable tasks which are necessary to the proper functioning of the school.

The cooks spend many hours planning well-balanced, nutritious lunches, while the office staff keeps the files, sells essential material to the students, and assists in making the school operate efficiently.

Mr. Brenner, as vice-principal, has the job of enforcing discipline among the students. He is also in charge of attendance and the various clubs and activities.

The librarian has a tremendous job to fulfill in organizing and sorting the books and magazines for the convenient use of the students.

One of the sources of help which the school receives comes from the students themselves.

The students who help in the office and guidance departments gain experience that will be helpful in their future occupations. There are also many able assistants who receive experience working in the school library.

The audio-visual team runs the projectors and other equipment, and the cafeteria helpers wash dishes, clean tables and collect milk money for the convenience of the students and cooks.

The departments which obtain this assistance are very grateful to those who volunteer their services.

The coach and managers observe a tackle on the practice field.

Again this year, Highland was the Inland Conference champion, after having compiled a perfect record of 9-0-0.

This great season featured many thrilling games, such as the one against Avon, during which we scored a touchdown in the final seconds to win.

The season was then perfected against Triway, and the surging chant of "We're number one!" expressed the feelings of all Highlanders.

The tri-captains—Gary Green, Tom Ioanes, and Harvey Beckwith.

Orchard runs sixty-five yards for a touchdown against Buckeye.

This year the Varsity Cheerleading Squad has done much to promote spirit at football and basketball games, pep rallies, and during school. They have improved their cheers during their practice sessions and have created new ones such as "Have you got the spirit?" One of their many creative ideas was to substitute cheers for the period bells on the day of the Homecoming game.

The Junior Varsity, in addition to cheering with the varsity cheerleaders and helping them sell programs during the football season, they also cheer at the J.V. basketball games.

Mrs. Ramey should be commended for a fine job in advising and coaching these eleven girls.

Majorettes

Our hard-working majorettes practice long hours to achieve the twirling precision and timing necessary for the squad to present an interesting performance.

A new routine, devised each week, must be correlated to the tempo of the band music. If a number such as "Can-Can" is played, the majorettes use a lot of twirling action. A slow, stately number such as "Scarborough Fair" requires a graceful and smooth routine.

Their hard work has payed off, for our Scottish lassies do a fine job and certainly add sparkle to the half-time show.

Work
Study Club

The students of the special education classes at Highland for the first time, have been given the opportunity to participate in the co-operative work study program. These students, while taking the courses required for graduation, also gain experience working at various jobs in the school and community.

This year, Medina County has made two projects available to these students. The first is a Pre-Vocational Learning Center. The purpose of this small-scale factory is to provide workers with some on-the-job experience. The other project is the Mobile Vocational Lab, which provides materials for working and vocations.

National Honor Society

Leadership, Scholarship, Service, and Character, these four qualities are found in the members of the National Honor Society. One must not only have a high academic standing, but one must also be active in various school and extracurricular activities.

After the neophytes, the new members who were inducted, repeated the pledge and signed the scroll, they were welcomed into N.H.S. As a conclusion to the ceremony, the guest speaker, Mr. Shultz, gave a stimulating talk about the youth of today.

Mrs. Ludwig, Advisor

Tom Ioanes, as president of the Student Council, holds a job which requires a tremendous amount of time, energy, and thought. In order to make the weekly meetings run more smoothly, Tom must plan the Council's business, and preside over the meeting. In addition to leading the discussions, he must appoint committees, serve as a member on them, and make sure the work is done. As a result of his effort, Student Council has accomplished many things this year. Thank you, Tom Ioanes.

Orchard, S. Picard, E. Fuller.

The Student Council, under the guidance of Mrs. Myers, organizes assemblies, Stunt Night, and Homecoming. They work with the students and clubs to promote spirit and to encourage participation in school projects like the Christmas door decorations.

The Student Council accomplishes much of its work thru various standing and special committees, but their meetings are open to the students.

G.A.A.

Our Girls' Athletic Association is organized to involve girls in athletics and to promote health and sportsmanship. The G.A.A. has formed an intramural soccer program involving those who are interested.

This year the annual hayride provided fun for all who attended. G.A.A. also sponsored a sock-hop during football season.

Y-Teens, as a division of the Y.W.C.A., is a club organized to promote world-wide fellowship among girls of all races, religions, and nationalities, and also, to teach the Christian principles. The girls, advised by Mrs. Reed, planned many interesting activities at their monthly meetings; one was a tobogganing party.

The national organization of the Future Teachers of America was founded in order to encourage high school students to join the teaching profession and to learn more about educational techniques. Highland's chapter of the F. T. A. has tried to promote enthusiasm for teaching by student teaching at the elementary and middle schools, which resulted in many varied experiences. In addition, they took a field trip to the Medina County Achievement Center and those who qualified ordered pins, signifying their memberships in the club.

During their first year as a club, they have acquired speakers and prepared a mother-daughter potluck supper. In addition, they make their own refreshments at the regular meetings.

Their very approporiate motto is "Know; care; do; the world awaits you!"

The purpose of Campus Life, Y. F. C., is two-fold. First, this club is to interest non-church young people in spiritual concepts. Secondly, Campus Life is to train Christian young people to become better Christian leaders. This interdenominational club not only stresses these two points but offers fellowship with students from all religions. The object of these purposes combined is to learn about and to get to know the person of Jesus Christ in a real, personal way, and to share this person to others in the Highland school.

Shades of Jean-Claude Killy! All we hear are words like "snowplow," "slalom," "t-bar" and "shush" from the Ski Club, one of the most popular additions to our school activities this year. At the slopes of Boston Mills, our skiers are immortalized every Wednesday evening as they practice after their group lesson.

Although there have been no major injuries, some of the group have experienced the sensation of being a human snowball. But, as a true skier knows, "all's fun at the slopes"!

The purpose of El Club de Espanol is to promote the Spanish language, customs, and culture. In December, the club had its second annual Christmas party, during which a candyfilled pinato was broken by the blushing Senorita Radwanski. Other highlights of the evening included caroling in Spanish, a ten-cent gift exchange, and the delicious refreshments.

In addition, some members purchased attractive pins carrying the Spanish Club insignia. Other members have participated in the matador act for Stunt Night and have written to pen pals in Spanish-speaking countries.

The club has concluded many funfilled activities and until next year, Hasta la vista!

This year's Latin Club has planned many worthwhile projects. Among these activities was a successful Christmas party and a trip to Hiram College to see the play, The Rope, a modern version of an ancient Latin play. The club members and students, under Mrs. Wolf's excellent guidance, have benefited from the recent purchase of a tape recorder to be used in the classroom. Knowledge about the Latin language and culture has been improved via this club.

"Checkmate!" spells the end of a successful chess board duel between members of the Highland club, who challenge each other for first string positions. The first string then participates in tournaments against members of other schools.

This year, our team took part in seven singles tournaments at Firestone and two team tournaments as Walsh.

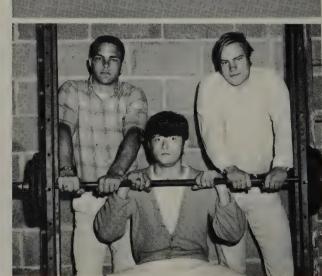

Science Club members examine a Tesla coil.

A new program of weightlifting has been started this year, under the supervision of Mr. Wolfe. The program involves thirty-five to forty boys who do not participate in intramural or winter sports. The exercises consist of forty-five minutes of weightlifting and station drills, for which many of the "musclemen" donate their own weights. The program will be continued next year because of a growing interest.

At the opening of a new decade, science is more important than ever before, and for those students interested in chemistry, botany, zoology, and physics, there is the Science Club. The Science Club is the driving force behind the science fair. They are the organizers and preliminary judges of the projects, and some members enter prize-winning projects of their own. Due to the efforts of the club, the annual science fair displays student ingenuity and helps to promote interest in science.

Drama Club

Drama Club, a new addition to the various clubs, has already been busy planning many exciting activities. With their advisor, Miss Chiaramonte, the club was able to attend a Drama Clinic presented by Kent State University. Not only were they able to see a musical production and an excellent pantomime but they also heard a drama critic speak. The Drama Club is for those students who are interested in acting or any aspect of a play's production.

Annual Staff

The annual staff, hard-working and diligent, each year provides a memento of Highland, the yearbook.

There are three staffs: the layout staff which crops, shrinks, or enlarges the "pics;" the copy staff which writes copy and identifies group pictures; and the advertising staff which sells ads to finance the yearbook.

At the helm of the staff stand the editor, Pam, and the advisor, Mrs. Thompson, who keep the yearbook production running smoothly.

devote their time and talent to write, produce, and sell the paper at regular intervals. Thanks are due to Mr. Wolfe for instructing the writers and directing the publication of the unique "Stinger."

Varsity "H"

The Varsity "H" is an organization composed of all Hornet lettermen. These boys sponsor many money-making projects, such as raffles and the selling of t-shirts. They also provide "unusual" entertainment between the skits at Stunt Night. Probably the highlight of their activities is the annual picnic in May, which everyone enjoys.

Homecoming Game

Our 1969 Homecoming festivities opened with the student body participating in a snake dance Thursday night. Here they announced our Homecoming Queen, Carolyn Duta.

Friday night the fans got their first glimpse of the Queen and her Court as each attendant was escorted by her father, while her outfit was described by the announcer. Then the tri-captains crowned Queen Carolyn, thus concluding the pre-game festivities.

An exciting game began between the Highland Hornets and the Avon Eagles. At the half, the Queen and Court plus the two bands presented an interesting and varied half-time show. As the game neared a close, the entire crowd was on its feet, caught up in a tense moment as the Hornets made a supreme team effort to succeed in defeating the Eagles by making a touchdown in the last few seconds — a great finale for Friday's Homecoming activities.

A crisp autumn evening ushered in the Homecoming dance. The Juniors had decorated the gym as a French side-walk cafe. Various French stores lined the walls while tables with red and white checked tablecloths and wine bottles added to the effect, as did the red, white, and blue color scheme. Dressed in pretty clothes, the Queen's court and their escorts watched the tri-captains crown the Queen. Following immediately was the traditional Queen's dance. An enjoyable time was had by all on the magical eve of the Homecoming dance.

Prom Activities And Banquet

Prom Dance

A Japanese garden was the theme of the prom this year, and the hardworking Juniors did an excellent job of decorating under the expert guidance of Mrs. Weigle. The colorful motif included fountains, a huge red and black pagoda, a goldfish pond, and a bridge. The banquet and dance were held in this oriental setting; chopsticks and pretty fans being souvenirs of the banquet, while elegant coiffures and flashy "tuxes" were reminiscent of the dance. Although the fun and excitement of the decorating, activities, banquet, and dance is over, the prom will long be remembered.

Senior Play

This year, the Seniors performed "THE MAN WHO CAME TO DINNER", under the direction of Mrs. Ludwig.

The star, Greg Wagar, played the part of the disagreeable writer and critic, Sheridan Whiteside, while the many supporting actors helped to make the entire production brilliant.

However, the play could not have been performed without the technical assistance of the stage crew, prompters, and Director Mrs. Ludwig, who should be commended for donating her time and effort every year to the always successful Junior and Senior plays.

"Harvey"

Junior Class Play

An invisible, six-foot rabbit is the hilarious subject of the Junior Class Play, Harvey. In this charming play Elwood P. Dowd is befriended by the "pooka" Harvey, who is invisible to Elwood's friends and relatives. This sets the stage for a series of zany misunderstandings which occur at Chumley's Rest, an asylum. Although Elwood is almost committed by his sister Vita, things work out in the end, and everyone, influenced by Elwood's kindness and generosity finally "sees" and believes in Harvey. Do you?

Stunt Night

This year, Stunt Night was a combination of original and creative skits.

The winning skit, "Hasten With the Basin, Jason, There's Some Cyclamate in My Tea", was performed by the Drama Club. Other winners were the Freshmen with "The Viper", Chess Club with "Once In the Morning Does It", and Journalism with "Russian Roulette".

The show was emceed by Gary Green and Harvey Beckwith, who kept things rolling with their jokes (?).

The Senior Mixed Chorus is a group comprised of talented vocally-minded students. Under the direction of Mr. Ruddock this musical group practices and sings a variety of songs designed for the four main parts: soprano, alto, tenor, and bass. These songs range from the quiet, religious "The Holy Infant" to the boisterous "Russian Picnic" to the spiritual "Elijah Rock" to the gay musical "Carousel." The chorus rehearsals are both fun and work, resulting in the Christmas and Spring Concerts, which are pleasurable to both participants and audience.

The accompanists are students who not only play the piano well but also devote their own time to practicing various pieces. They must patiently go over parts as the vocal groups practice notes and rhythms of the songs.

Specially selected voices are combined to make up an ensemble. These students devoted extra time to practicing numbers to be performed at the County and District contests and the concerts.

This year's General Mixed Chorus practices three times weekly, under the direction of Mr. Ruddock, in preparation for three major concerts. They presented a Thanksgiving program of music at the annual school assembly. They also participated, along with other choral groups, in the Christmas Concert. Their last and most important engagement is the Spring Concert.

In addition to the chorus and glees, interested students have the opportunity to try out for ensembles. One lucky ensemble participated in the contest at state level.

The band librarians have a tremendous commitment to fulfill in filing, passing out, retrieving music, and meeting Mr. Eckart's requests.

"Line it up," "Lift those knees," and "Swagger," were a few of the calls familiar to the sixty-four members of the 1969 Hornet Marching Band. During the hot summer days of August, Mr. Eckart, Mr. Herold, and the members worked on learning new drills, shows, and music for the marching season. To add variety to half-time, the band performed formation shows, and to the surprise and delight of the audience, they sang and played a catchy rendition of "Mame", while in stage formation.

As always, the band is a close-knit organization which adds enthusiasm, spirit, and music to each football game.

Spring Concert

Music! New and exciting varieties of it were performed at the Spring Concert directed by Mr. Eckart and Mr. Ruddock. The band played selections from all types of music, including Sousa's famous march, "The Stars and Stripes," "King of the Road," and excerpts from the Broadway hit, "Hair."

The choral groups sang songs such as "Carousel," "Poor Man Lazarus," and several spirituals. The emotional highlight of the concert was the stirring "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which combined the vocal and instrumental parts.

Baker, L. Stiles, J. Gathagan, Nagy, D. Weiss, D. Brantner, M. Love.

"Echoes of Gladness," which aptly describes this choral group, is also the name of a song sung by the Girl's Glee. Various new arrangements in the harmony and melody parts have produced a new, exciting sound this year, which everyone enjoys.

The hearty, musical sound belonging to the Men's Glee shows the enthusiasm and spirit with which the boys sing. Some of their favorites this year were "The Twelve Days of Christmas," the boisterous "A-Roving," and "The Water is Wide."

MEN'S GLEE — Bottom Row: C. Johnson, S. Price, D. Sprague, J. Wise, S. Adams, B. Smith, I. Mealer, E. Fuller, T. Kennedy, B. Harvey, R. Wagar. Second Row: M. Harmon, B. Paytosh, C. Simmons, J. The Class of 1970 has been one that is rich in all aspects of school life. They have distinguished themselves in sports, the highlight being a perfect football season; drama, performing two excellent class plays; scholarship, and school activities. Their accomplishments, most of which have been captured in this yearbook, will remain behind, serving as a goal for future Seniors, while they provide many pleasant memories for each member of the greatest class ever.

Art Department

Enameling, pottery-making, oil painting, silk screening, and silver-smithing are just a few of the projects occupying our very talented artists this year. Under the expert instruction of Mrs. Melrose, the students keep the showcases of Highland filled with lovely displays. They also compete in several art shows, one of which includes fifteen counties. As usual, our artists again claimed a large share of the hard-to-earn blue ribbons this year.

Baccalaureate

Baccalaureate is the period of calm before the storm of Commencement. Held on a Sunday evening, it consists of a non-denominational service organized by the local clergy, and special music sung by the Chapel Choir. This year, the message, "What is Truth," was delivered by Reverend Peter Rudowski and ministers LeRoy Hart, Walter Ribbe, John Kusiak, and Harold Winter participated in the prayers and scripture lessons.

It is hoped that this short period of meditation will allow everyone to prepare himself to meet the future challenges he will face as a young American.

Commencement

The eighteenth annual Commencement marked a milestone in the lives of 137 graduating Seniors. As the big event drew near and practice began in earnest, a quiet sense of accomplishment and expectation united the class as never before. Everyone seemed to realize that they were about to assume their place in society, and the joys and anxieties were shared by all. On Wednesday evening the class looked stunning in forest green and white robes, with gold honor cords adorning National Honor Society members. Dr. Fred E. Luchs addressed the group and speeches were also given by the valedictorian and salutatorian.

Many awards were presented at Commencement, such as the Violet Richey Award, twenty dollars of which went to the valedictorian, Lynn Harvey, and an equal amount to Debbie Wecker, who distinguished herself on Latin and German scholarship tests. The Activity awards went to Tom McDuffee, Tom Ioanes. and Pam Gathagan for their outstanding contributions to clubs and various other organizations. Pam also received the Highland Council Scholarship which is awarded to a promising Senior interested in teaching. In athletics the Charles Hardman Award was earned by Pat Holbert, for being the best all-around athlete, and in music, the John Philip Sousa Award was presented to Lynn Harvey, as the most outstanding Senior bandsman. However the best award was given to everyone — a hard-earned diploma. And when the tassels went from left to right, everyone had an award they could never lose or forget — an education, friends, and the memories of twelve wonderful years of life.

Dear Reader,

The last page of any book is the most rewarding, whether it be an epic or a dimestore paperback. We, the Staff, hope you enjoy our production, because although putting it together has been fun, it also induced "blood, sweat, and tears."

In the tradition of good reporting we have tried to present an accurate and interesting account of life at HHS, as we saw it. Only you, the student, may judge the result.

As for the Seniors, we hope the book will be extra special, because it is evidence of that precious time of life — the flowering of youth into young adulthood.

For the rest of you, it is a glimpse into the future and a memory of the past.

Thanks for buying the Highlander and may each succeeding one be even better!
